

An update from Quality Assurance Department

Dear Students,

The update for last week focused on 'Assessment Policy'.

This policy aims to outline the guidance around assessment brief, assessment decisions, internal verification processes and breach of academic regulations.

The update for this week focuses on 'Code of Practice on Freedom of Speech within Nelson College London'.

The code sets out the College's approach to preserving 'Academic Freedom' and 'Freedom of Speech' as set out in Education Act 1986 for the benefit of students, staff and visitors.
